BOWLS LAW: Team A has rolled the jack 1.5 meters past the minimum end and are holding several shots. Team B has the backest bowl but the rest are short. The skipper of Team B drives and hits the jack which rebounds off a bowl towards the mat 2 meters. The third of Team A claims it is a dead end as the jack is now short of the 21-meter mark. Is he correct? Answer: Under law B.4.2. Appendix B. C: The minimum distance for a rebounding Jack is 20 meters from the mat. The jack is live.
