BOWLS LAW: A bowl finishes near the boundary line of the rink. Both skips look at the bowl and allow play to continue. When the players change ends the thirds agree that the bowl is out of bounds but the second of Team A object? What happens?

Answer: The skips are in charge of the rink. By previously agreeing that the bowl is in, it is a live bowl and should not be moved by any player. Law 17.3; 40.1.2 & 40.1.5
