BOWLS ETIQUETTE: The markers in a singles game should wait for the players to tell them the score before writing it down or leaving the head even if the score is obvious. The players may want to measure.

The marker should not volunteer information i.e. if the jack needs to be put on the T they should only say so if asked by either player.

A marker should only measure if asked by the players.

They should check with the players if they think the end is too short before calling the umpire.

A good marker is invisible and enhances the game for the players.
