Bowls New South Wales Ltd Uniform Policy

Purpose

This policy outlines the requirements for playing attire in Bowls New South Wales Ltd (BNSW) championship events as defined in the BNSW Conditions of Play (COP).

The health and wellbeing of members is of the utmost importance for BNSW and in the application of this policy, BNSW encourage and promote sun-smart attire options for all members where possible.

BNSW adopts the Bowls Australia National Merchandise Policy (BA NMP).

As per BA NM Policy team wear is recognised under two categories, Upper Body Attire and Lower Body Attire. All members competing in championship events are required to comply with this section.

Please note: approval/registration of any new club design is no longer required from Bowls NSW.

Upper Body Attire

Please refer to BA NMP as to the upper body attire classification.

All upper body attire must display a Bowls Australia logo and be purchased through a licensed manufacturer. Additional design features such as sponsor names, club names, player names etc. may be displayed on all upper body attire.

Lower Body Attire

Please refer to BA NMP as to the lower body attire classification.

All lower body attire must display a Bowls Australia logo and be purchased through a licenced manufacturer. Additional design features such as sponsor names, club names, player names etc. may be displayed on all lower body attire.

It is not mandatory to display the Bowls Australia logo on lower body attire ordered or purchased before 1 December 2022.

Any lower body attire ordered or purchased after 1 December 2022 must have the Bowls Australia logo displayed.

Please ensure your licensed manufacturer is made aware.

Footwear

Please refer to Bowls Australia list of approved footwear available on their website (bowls.com.au).

Members must gain approval from BNSW to wear footwear other than an approved footwear for any championship event.

Headwear

A Bowls Australia logo is optional, and the BA NMP should be considered on replacement or when competing in National events sanctioned by Bowls Australia.

Teams and Sides

In Championship events played in a team or side format all members of the team must be similarly attired.

Attire within a category, for example, trousers, shorts, skirts, leggings etc., in lower body attire must be of similar colour. Similarly attired does not mean identical or same item of clothing.

In the case of an open team event, it is acceptable for teams to wear their current Men's and Ladies' club uniform.

Similar uniforms should be considered on replacement.

Social Play and other Club Events not under the Jurisdiction of Bowls NSW

It is the decision of each club to determine the attire to be worn.

MEMBER PROFILE – JOHN BARRS

A young John Barrs entered the Commonwealth Bank straight out of school and stayed with that organisation for the whole thirty-seven years of his working life.

Born in Lismore and raised in the New South Wales country town of Glen Innes, John completed his secondary education as a boarder back in Lismore three hours away from his family. Like many of his contemporaries he played rugby league for enjoyment and social interaction.

During his time at the bank John was posted to Papua New Guinea where he worked in Rabal on the island of New Britain. He was subsequently sent to Kavieng on nearby New Ireland. Here he serviced the financial needs of other expat Australians who were running businesses and developing the country. He also learned to play a social round of golf where the local kanaka caddies were too smart or too experienced to retrieve balls from the crabs' holes with their snappy inhabitants. Another activity was fishing with one of the local customs officers where he once caught a 60 lb sailfish. John reminisces warmly of this period in his life having made many lasting friends during his time in the islands.

Back in Australia John spent time on the Bank's Internal Audit staff and was manager at many country branches including Henty, Harden and Moss Vale before finally landing in Camden in 1991.

As many in those transient occupations found, fitting in with the district sporting flavour was the way to get accepted by the locals. As a consequence, John enjoyed squash and water skiing before taking up bowls at Moss Vale. Aside from the initial instruction that 'the little ring goes on the inside' he had no official coaching but enjoyed the sport immensely.

Modestly claiming little success on the greens, he remembered winning two Grade Seven Flags with Camden which led to his team competing in the State Finals. He also won the Ted Salmon Challenge Pairs with club champion John Bugden.

John fondly remembers the social events and evenings, popular in those days, where everyone dressed up and attended the club for an evening meal and trophy presentation.

However, John Barrs' most notable success with Camden Bowling club was as an administrator. He was talked into joining the Board and having been a bank manager it was a foregone conclusion that Treasurer would be his portfolio. He took over in 2008 when the club was in financial strife and looking down the barrel of insolvency. Previously Wests Leagues Club had been in control but when they pulled out it left the club in a parlous state.

Then club treasurer Jim O'Farrell had instigated the 200 Club in an effort to raise funds and put the club back on an even keel. The new board, which included president Billy Webb, Secretary Steve Laker and John used this as their principal vehicle to bring the club back to solvency. They ensured that nearly all tickets were sold and encouraged non-members to buy. They tried to be very inclusive by encouraging new members and inviting the ladies to play mixed bowls which all increased green fees.

When John took over the office all the financial dealings were recorded in the large, lined old fashioned ledgers so he spent considerable effort in transcribing them onto computer in the modern, efficient system.

In his eleven years as Treasurer John Barrs, along with Billy Webb and Steve Laker was instrumental in bringing the Camden Bowling Club back from the brink of extinction to the dynamic, successful organization that we see today. He also served two years as one of the Vice Presidents before handing over the administration to a younger generation.

One of his proudest memories is the day he was awarded Life Membership. A fitting reward for years of forethought, dedication and plain hard work on behalf of the Camden Bowling Club.

COACH'S CORNER

Fundamentals To Improve Your Lawn Bowls Consistency

Achieving consistency game after game is something even the elite of the elite bowlers are constantly trying to improve upon or retain. Playing the correct line and weight repeatedly is more than likely a huge factor in determining a winner in any format of the game.

If you find yourself having one of those games where a few wayward bowls are sandwiched between some 'game winners' then take a look at the following 3 fundamentals to reduce those wayward bowls to a minimum and produce more game winning shots consistently.

FUNDAMENTALS FOR CONSISTENCY

1 – ROUTINE

Routine can be split into two types of routine, a pre-game routine and a pre-shot routine. Both are equally as valuable and important to improving consistency.

The principle behind a pre-shot routine is to help a bowler perform to their potential under stressful conditions. A repeatable pre-shot routine will focus your attention on performing the shot you are about to play and reduce the chance of focusing on outcomes, distractions or negative thoughts.

Pre-Shot Routine – this should be personal to you and can constitute something as simple and straightforward as picking the bowl up with a certain hand, checking the bias of the bowl and placing your feet on a specific spot on the matt. Alternatively, a pre-shot routine can be elaborate and complex, take for example tennis star Rafael Nadal, who goes through a complex pre-shot routine.

Regardless of complexity a pre-shot routine should be the same for every bowl you are about to play regardless of shot type or game situation.

Pre-Game Routine – having a pre-game routine can be overlooked but can play a vital role in helping to minimise anxiety, help to focus the bowler's mindset on the game and remove distractions.

2 – RELAXED

Relaxation or the sense of being relaxed is a psychological strategy used to help manage or reduce stress-related emotions ie. Anxiety. Being relaxed also helps to reduce physical tension and increased heart rate, which both can contribute to inconsistent bowls by disrupting your 'flow' or 'rhythm'. We have all heard the expression 'they have had a rush of blood to the head.'

Simple measures such as being on-time to a game, or taking a few deep breathes before playing a shot can help to make you feel more relaxed and confident in your ability.

3 – FOCUS / CONCENTRATION

Focus or concentration is simply the mental effort you put into each game/delivery. The fundamental principal of concentrating is to focus on the task at hand and remove as many internal and external distractions as possible.

Some examples of internal distractions are; thinking about a previous end or bowl, thinking about the next game, thinking about the opponent and expectations from yourself or others. External distractions playing bowls can be such things as mobile phones and spectators.

Being pro-active and purposefully trying to remove as many distractions as possible will enable you to assign more mental effort to each delivery and narrow the focus to the shot you are about to play.

'Consistent actions create consistent results'

(Compliments of the Bowls Academy)

J O'K

In the early hours of 27 June 1960, O'Keefe, Johnny Greenan and Greenan's wife Janice were driving back to Sydney from Queensland Gold Coast. About 20 kilometres north of Kempsey, the Plymouth ploughed into a gravel truck. While the front of the large car bore the brunt of the very severe impact, all three were seriously injured. O'Keefe's face was smashed and Johnny Greenan was thrown out of the car, landing six metres away on the highway, causing a fractured vertebra and loss of front teeth; Janice Greenan suffered a severe concussion. O'Keefe suffered multiple lacerations, a concussion and fractures to his head and face; he lost four teeth, and his hands were also badly lacerated. O'Keefe was air-lifted back to Sydney for treatment and survived.

Tomorrowland greeters. Disneyland. 1960.

In March 2000, 55 Oscars were stolen from a loading dock in an L.A. suburb just weeks before the 72nd Academy Awards ceremony. The disappearance of so many iconic statuettes caused a media frenzy, and a public response came fast. R.S. Owens, which had been making the statuettes since 1982, raced to manufacture a new batch of 55. Roughly 20 factory workers worked 24/7 to re-create the entire inventory and shipped them west in time for the curtain call.

Within days of the theft, Willie Fulgear, an unemployed junk scavenger, alerted the LAPD that he'd found 52 statuettes while rummaging through a dumpster behind a Food 4 Less near Koreatown. He later quipped that he had "more Oscars than any of the movie stars." The company that had been responsible for transporting the statuettes, Roadway Express, awarded Fulgear $50,000, and the Academy gave him two seats at the ceremony. The thieves, who reportedly got cold feet and dumped the Oscars, were caught and received light sentences. (In 2003, another statuette was recovered during a drug bust in Florida. The last two still are missing.)

WORLD RECORD BIKE TRIP

The world record for the longest journey on a motorcycle belongs to Argentine Emilio Scotto, who left home on January 17, 1985... and returned on April 2, 1995, having covered a total of 735,000 km and visited 214 independent countries and territories. Emilio drove the entire journey on a Honda motorcycle - the legendary GL1100 Gold Wing 1980, nicknamed "Black Princess". For ten years "Princess" consumed 47,000 liters of fuel, 1,300 liters of oil, 86 tires, 12 batteries and 9 seats! .. For all 735,000 km, only one engine change was required. Upon returning home, Emilio wrote "The Longest Ride", in which he described his incredible journey over 224 pages.
